RE: Corrected Link for Property Contact Updates

SUMMARY:

We notified you last week of a fast, easy way to let IHDA know who we should contact at your organization. Unfortunately, there were unexpected technical issues with the direct link provided.

Please use the the link available here (under the Property Contact Updates header on the Property Manager page of IHDA's website) instead.

If you previously entered data using the link issued last week, we kindly ask that you resubmit using this updated link to ensure your data is properly saved and transmitted. Please also share this notice with any colleagues that may be making updates to IHDA's points of contact for your organization now or in the future.

Our regrets for any inconvenience. Thank you for your continued partnership.
